AMS News

On Thursday, Nov. 5, AMS held a Junior Varsity Pep Rally in the gym. Music was provided by the Raider Pep Band and the rally was led by the Junior Varsity cheerleaders. The coaching staff and J. V. players were introduced to a very enthusiastic student body. Spirit stick competition was held and was judged by staff members who do not teach either 7th or 8th grade classes to insure impartiality. Amid the cheers, twenty members with ears ringing, sparred on their classes to show their spirit. The judges had a difficult decision to make as the spirit ran high on both sides, but the 8th grade outshone the 7th by a narrow margin and won the spirit stick.

Perfect attendance contest at AMS-Turner, the 6th month, November, Mrs. Braswell's eighth grade homebase is sponsoring a school wide perfect attendance contest. The attendance of each homebase will be accounted for, and on Dec. 2 the homebase with the highest percentage of attendance will receive a prize. The type of prize will be announced the day it is awarded. This contest is a direct result of the Group Guidance Activities Program (G-GAP) that is currently in progress at AMS.

State Trooper Dan Beamon of Appomattox State Police Department and Investigator Ricky Baldwin of Appomattox Sheriff Department visited the eighth grade health classes at Appomattox Middle School. Important information was presented concerning the problems of drugs and drug abuse. Their presentation and discussion were well receives by the students.

School is in and the S.C.A. is already hard at work. The first meeting was held on October 1, 1981. In that meeting we elected from the seventh grade, the Vice-President. The winner was Jeff Scruggs. So far we have decided to have a dance on December 17, 1981. We have changed a rule, so now we can go to our lockers after 8th period. We are also having a Pep Rally on Nov. 5, 1981 at 2:30. We're hoping to have more dances and Pep-Rallys and for this to be the best S.C.A. ever.

Raider Review

By JANE GUILL

Everyone is a homemaker! That statement can easily be proven if one was to walk into one of Mrs. Betty Jo Smith's home economics classes.

The traditional belief that only girls take home economics no longer takes a stand. Seventeen boys can be found working hard in the home economics department this year. One student said, "It is just as important for boys to learn about cooking and the preparing and other courses that are labled 'boys only'."

Mrs. Smith, who has been teaching since 1970 at Appomattox County High School, teaches family living and specialized home economics. Students enrolled in family living learn basic home economics. How to balance a budget, the way to buy a home or a car, caring for clothes, how to clean house, and how to cook a meal for one person are all examples of what is taught in family living. In essence the course is designed to give a student information that will be beneficial to them when they are living on their own. The majority of boys taking home economics are enrolled in family living.

The specialized classes are specifically called Consumer Economics and Home Management. For the first semester those students enrolled in the classes will learn basically the same things as students in family living but the course goes into more detail. Child development will be taught the second semester. Specialized home economics is taught after students have completed at least two years of regular home economics. Family living is taught to juniors and seniors who have never taken home economics.

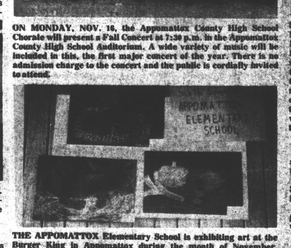
Home economics is becoming more important for everyone in today's world. Everyone should be aware of the basics of homemaking whether it be nutrition or how to spend your money wisely. "Home economics offers practical knowledge that everyone needs to know, it should be a required course," said Mrs. Smith.

The Future Homemakers of America (FHA) is the club related through home economics. The theme for this year is Homemaking: The Universal Skill." Miss Wanda Boyd and Mrs. Smith are sponsors of the club. Throughout the year FHA members have many programs and participate in activities that carry out the theme.

Home economics has taken on a different look. When one walks into a FHA meeting or stops by to visit a class they will soon realize home economics isn't all girls, cooking or sewing, but they're still important!

ON MONDAY, NOV. 16, the Appomattox County High School Chorale will present a Fall Concert at 7:30 p.m. in the Appomattox County High School Auditorium. A wide variety of music will be included in this, the first major concert of the year. There is no admission charge to the concert and the public is cordially invited to attend.

SCREAMS, AUTOGRAPHS! Scenes such as these were coming from Nov. 4 when the Beatles appeared at the Coliseum, Wednesday, November 4. Pictured above are, Brenda Richardson, Mrs. Gladys Moon and Public Relations Director, Mrs. Brenda Richardson were testing Brenda's hearing after experiencing a hamsterish test. With pieces of cotton in hand the brave were lined up for tests which consisted of a simple prick of the finger. Several students were turned away by those in charge because the clinic was nearly booked to capacity. The activities were part of a science fair project conducted by those in the grade students in the clinic and were primarily attended by the students admitted to the various classes. Thanks to each nurses for providing their assistance.



THE APPOMATTOX Elementary School is exhibiting art at the Burger King in Appomattox during the month of November. Several students work from the sixth grade art classes are being shown in the foyer and lobby of the family restaurant. The works featured have been drawn in chalk and oil pastels from an actual still life of real fashioned vegetables. Mr. Randy Hyatt, manager at Burger King in Appomattox has been very cooperative in extending an open invitation to Appomattox Elementary School to exhibit their student art in the future.

Buckingham beats Appomattox, 21-19

Times-Virginian

Sports

"A tough Buckingham varsity football team handed the Raiders their third loss in the final game of the 1981 season Friday night at Buckingham.

The Raiders had a good night offensively, gaining 214 yards in the air and 93 yards on the ground. But several key defensive plays by the Knights made the difference, and when the final buzzer sounded, Buckingham walked away with their seventh win of the season, 21-19.

Ron Carter and Allen Edmonds scored first for the Raiders, and the game stayed close throughout the first three quarters.

Buckingham took a 21-13 lead in the fourth quarter, but shortly thereafter, the Raiders drove to the Buckingham one-yard line, where quarterback Kevin Ferguson dove across to bring the score to 21,19.

The Raiders went for the two-point conversion but Ferguson was dropped before he could get the pass off, and the Buckingham lead held.

The Raiders had a final chance to score in the fourth quarter, when the Raiders blocked a punt and got the ball deep in Knight territory.

But Buckingham's defense held, and the Raiders tried a field goal, which failed, ending the Appomattox sacoring opportunities in the game.

Buckingham's Will Gowin ran up 110 yards on 24 carries for the Knights. Buckingham had an outstanding night running the ball, with a total ground offense of 251 yards for the night. The Knights could muster only 39 yards in passing offense, however.

The loss set the Raiders' record at 6-3-1 for the season. Buckingham's record this year was 7-3.

Ferguson, the Raider quarterback, completed 16 of 27 passes for 214 yards. He also scored one of three Raider touchdowns against Buckingham.

Allen Edmonds had four receptions for 117 yards. He scored one of the three Appomattox touchdowns.

On defense, Rodney Bryant made nine tackles and four assists against the touch Buckingham running game.

Raiderettes fall to Devils, 45-36

The Raiderette varsity basketball team won its first-round Seminole District Tournament game against Gretna last week, then fell to powerful Rustburg in the second round matchup.

The Raiderettes got off to a slow start against Gretna Wednesday night, falling behind by a score of 12-4 as the first quarter ended.

Appomattox made up ground in the second quarter, however, pulling in within four as the half ended with Gretna ahead, 19-11.

The Raiderettes outpaced Gretna in the third quarter, and when that period ended the game was tied, 25-25.

In the final quarter, the Raiderettes exploded for 21 points while holding Gretna to 13, and the game ended a 46-38 Raiderette win.

Ruby Smith and Rhonda Jaggars both scored in double figures for the Raiderettes, Smith with 18 points and Jaggars with ten. Other Raiderettes scoring against Gretna were Lolita Preston with nine points, Sandra Watkins with seven, and Kim McGrath with two.

Leading scorer for Gretna was Jackie Callands, with 21 points.

Saidra Watkins led rebounding for the Raiderettes, with 12 for the night. She was followed by Ruby Smith with nine rebounds, Kim McGrath with eight, and Rhonda Jaggars with six.

Jaggars also had seven steals during the game, followed by Preston with five steals, and Smith and Watkins, with two steals each.

Rustburg ended the Raiderettes' season Thursday night, in a close game where the Lady Red Devils' balanced attack won out, 45-34.

Rustburg exploded for 16 points in the first quarter, while holding the Raiderettes to only four points, on field goals by Preston and Smith.

In the second quarter, the Raiderettes got their scoring act together and put 14 points on the board, answered by six points from Rustburg. The score at halftime was 22-18, Rustburg.

Rustburg slammed down in the second half, allowing Appomattox eight points in both the third and fourth quarters, while scoring 11 and 12 points, respectively, in the two final periods of play. The game ended a 45-34 victory for Rustburg.

As in much of this year's girls' basketball season, Ruby Smith led Raiderette scoring against Rustburg, with 22 points for the game.

Lolita Preston scored six points against Rustburg, Sandra Watkins four and Kim McGrath two. Three Rustburg players scored in double figures against Appomattox: Marjorie Dyke with 10, Amanda Jackson with 12 and Cindy Lewis with 12. Sarah Jackson added nine points and Angie Jones two to round out the Lady Red Devils' scoring for the evening.

Following the final game of the season, Coach Mary Tolley said she was proud of her team, which compiled a 11-6 record this season, the best in five years.

"The girls gave a better performance than any of us expected at the first of this season, what with the inexperience at the forward positions," Coach Tolley said.

The Regional playoffs will begin tonight (Wednesday) at Rustburg High School.

Jayvees take 8-0 win over Knights

The jayvee Raiders defeated Buckingham 8-0 in their final game of 1981 last Thursday evening.

The win gave Appomattox the junior varsity Seminole District title, with an 8-1 district record, 8-2 overall.

The Buckingham game was mostly a defensive battle, fought in the rain. Although the Raiders had good field position most of the game, they could cross the Buckingham goal line only once.

Appomattox took the opening kickoff and drove to the Knights' 20, but a fourth-down pass fell incomplete, and the defensive stalemate continued until the Raiders in the second quarter sustained a drive that took them to the Buckingham 10-yard line.

On a third-down play, quarterback Paul Johnson hit tight end Kevin Kendricks for a touchdown. Ronald Kelso ran for the two-point conversion, and the Raiders took an 8-0 lead into the locker room at half time.

The second half was all defense, as both teams had trouble moving the ball and holding on to it in the wet conditions. The Raiders could muster only 130 yards rushing and 61 passing, for a game total of 191 yards.

However, the Raider defense held the Knights in check all night and Buckingham never made a serious scoring threat. The Raider defense was led by linebacker John Hurt, cornerback Mike Ferguson, linebacker Russell Walton, and tackle Carl Banks. Also contributing big defensive plays were Phil Bollinger and Ricky Turner, with interceptions and Paul Johnson and Phil Bollinger with fumble recoveries.

On offense, Ronald Kelso led rushers with 61 yards, Ricky Turner followed with 39 yards, and Russell Walton had 30 yards rushing.

Paul Johnson was 11 for 16 and one touchdown, while Kevin Kendricks caught two passes for 20 yards and the only touchdown of the night.

This year's team deserves a lot of credit, because they were the smaller team just about every game," according to Coach Howard Clabough.

"Yet, this team was big on determination and attitude," the coach continued. "We had a lot of outstanding individual efforts during the season, but these young men won games because of unity and determination."

On the season, the jayvee Raiders scored 23 touchdowns and 13-two-point conversions for a total of 164 Raider points, while the defense allowed nine touchdowns, five two-point conversions, and one field goal for a total of 67 points.

The defense also recorded four shut-outs during the season. This year marks the third straight year that the jayvee Raiders have claimed the Seminole District junior varsity title.
